Senator Grady introduced two bills to-day

Senator Grady introduced two bills to-day which undoubtedly come from the city authorities of New York. One of them provides for the extension to the Government of the new city of the provisions of Gov. Black's Civil Service law, under which the appointing power can make such appointments as it sees fit. The Mayor now has the power of appointing municipal Civil Service Commissioners inore or less hampered by the provisions of the charter which prescribes several general rules for it to follow.

Under these rules the appointment these rules the appointing power i Usder these rules the appointing power is butch less free to enforce its will, even if the local commission adopts the most liberal regulations. The charter compels the selection of applicants according to fitness, and does not leave the same loophole as the Constitution mentions both merit and fitness, and under Gov. Black's law these are rated at 50 per cent. each, It is apparently the intention of the Tammany leaders to gain as much freedom in municipal affairs as Gov. Black's law secures in general. Benator Grady's other bill relates to the Street Cleaning Department and provides a considerably smaller force for the department than that established by the charter. The bill proposes to reduce the number of district superintendants from 21 to 11, time collectors from 2 to 3, section foremen from 125 to 58, dump inspectors from 43 to 20, sweepers from 4,100 to 1,500, drivers from 1,600 to 750, stable foremen from 21 to 11, and hostlers from 146 to 88. Both bills were referred to the Cities' Committee.

BEET SUGAR EXPERIMENTS. mtener Wieting Urges the State to Continue Them for a Few Years. ALBANY, Jan. 14 .- In his annual report to the egislature.submitted to-day. State Agricultural Commissioner Wieting says that while elec-margarine is practically not on sale in the State mmodity there are still many clandestine les, mainly in the cities of New York and Brooklyn and in the river towns between Albany

Regarding the sugar beet experiments of last wear the Commissioner says the experiments on the fourteen patches planted by him during the year have been such as to warrant him in beliering that the State should continue the experiment for a few years. The experiments were encouraging, but he does not think it wise to say they were conclusive, for the reason that the experiments for one season only will not determine the fact of what may happen the next or following season with different conditions, and he therefore does not reel like saying to expitalists that it has been demonstrated between the fact of the work of the say of the same that they are the same that way. He therefore recommends a continuance of the experiments.

He reports that there is one beet sugar factory in the State, the New York Beet Sugar Company's factory at Rome; that the report of the subjust of that factory was that not only can sugar be made from beets raised in this State, but that a good sugar can be made. The law requires that the factory during the season showed 50 per cent, of year crystallized sugar; most of the sugar made at this factory during the season showed 50 per cent, of purity.

The Commissioner suggests no increase in the appropriation, except an item of $5,000 to farmers' institutes and an increase to $50,000 of the amount of money appropriated for the season sheared the sucar institutes and an increase to $50,000 of the amount of money appropriated for the season agency institutes and an increase to $50,000 of the smount of money appropriated for the season agency in the season sheared to the best sugar industry. lieving that the State should continue the ex-

THE BROOKLYN DRY DOCK NO. S. Contractor Watch's Reply to the Secretary o

A copy of the following communication has been received from Messrs, Hornblower, Byrne Taylor, and Miller, counsel for Augustin Walsh, surviving member of the firm of John & Au Walsh, contractors. In a despatch from Washington published on last Thursday it was announced that Secretary Long had de cided to commence proceedings against Mr. Walsh for alleged responsibility for the defeets in Brooklyn Dry Dock No. 3.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14, 1898. Hon. John D. Long, Secretary of the Navy, Washing

DEAR Str. Replying to your favor under late of Jan. 12, which was only delivered to me through the post within the last hour, I am somewhat at a loss to understand the reason for me through the post within the last above, and somewhat at a loss to understand the reason for your notification at this present date.

Four days after the leak was first observed, in May last, I addressed a letter to the proper bureau in your department, stating that I had "determined before the Government went ahead to try to stop the leaks, to offer my services and such skill as I have in any way that you may see fit to make use of them. The question of compensation I leave entirely to the discretion of the Secretary of the Navy. That is a matter which can be considered after we have stopped the leak. I should much prefer to have the entire job left to me, but if you do not care to do that, I still offer to give you any assistance that I can. The success of that dock is more important to my own reputation than to any one else, and it is for this reason, among others, that I write you as above."

that dock is more important to my own reputation than to any one else, and it is for this reason, among others, that I write you as above."

In the face of my offer as above, involving no expense to the Government, you have chosen neither to leave the matter of the repairs to me nor even in any way to consult me. I have my opinion as to the method adopted in the repair of the dock, which differs from your own. Obviously, however, you cannot expect any assistance now from me, after passing by my previous offer, after appointing a board of vour own choosing, which has proceeded to look into the matter without calling upon me in any way, and with the apparent result that the efforts of your naval constructor in the repair of the dock have been misdirected.

So far as looking to me or my suretles for any relimbursement, you know quite well that the Government has no claim. The dock has been accepted. Nothing short of fraud on my part in securing the acceptance would obligate me to repay any of the moneys received. I do not understand that you make any charge of fraud.

However that may be, it seems to me that your renssmission to my sureties of a copy of your letter to me was a needless annoyance put upon them, which I should be glad to obviate in the future. In case, therefore, that I be mistaken and that you do make a charge of fraud.
I beg to state that I am ready to place $150,000 of unencumbered real estate in this city—taking that figure, as I do, because the amount is the same as the Congressional appropriations—in such situation as may be agreed upon between the United States District Attorney and my counsel, Messra. Hornblower, Byrne, Taylor & Miller, so that there can be no question of the collection by the Government of any judgment which it may obtain against me. This offer stands good, provided suit be brought within a reasonable time, say the next thirty days.

May I be permitted to suggest in conclusion,
that the fully of building a wooden dry dock,

TWO NEGRO BELLBOYS ARRESTED. They Robbed Boarders at the Metel Mariborough and the Warwick.

Boarders at the Hotel Marlborough and the Varwick Hotel have reported so many robberies of late that the police were notified and two Central Office detectives were assigned to them. For two weeks the detectives have been working on the case, and on Thursday night they arrested two negroes who are employed as bellboys. They were Charles Tuckett, 19 years old, of 503 Sixth avenue, and James Wilk-ham, 20 years old, of 318 West Forty-first street. Wilkham was employed at the War-wick and Tuckett at the Marlborough. They were arrested for the last two thefts.

On Wednesday of last week Joseph H. Rowe of Gloucester, Mass., while dozing in the smoking room of the Warwick, was robbed of a gold watch and chain valued at $250 which had been given him by the Gloucester Masonic lodge when he took the Knight Templar degree. A Pearl street merchant of the name of Renk, a guest at the Mariborough, was robbed of a $125 diamond ring and a gold chain valued at $50 on New Year's eve.

Detectives Millmore and Corlin suspected some of the employees and kept a sharp watch on the bellboys. On Thursday night they decided to arrest Tuckett and Wilkham, who had been seen holding secret conferences and acting in a suspicious manner. On Wilkham they found the ring and Renk's chain on Tuckett. Rowe's chain was found at a house on West Sixtieth street, in the possession of a negress, who said that Tuckett had given it to her, while the watch was found in a jewelry repair store on Sixth avenue. The prisoners admitted the thefts to Capt, McClusky of the Detective Bureau, but denied the other robberies.—Magistrate Kudlich in the Jefferson Market Police Headquarters until to-day to await the ar Police Court yesterday remanded them to Po-lice Headquarters until to-day to await the ar-rival of Rowe from Gloucester.

'ILLUSTRATED AMERICAN' AFTRE.

Its Plant Burned a Second Time and a Con templated Co-operative Schome Spoiled. The plant of the Illustrated American at Twenty-third street and First avenue was partly destroyed by fire yesterday morning. The fire started in the photograph rooms on the top floor and wrecked them in short order, destroying many valuable lenses. A newsboy who saw the flames a block away gave the alarm which called the engines. They battled inef fectually with the fire, however, until the water tower came and poured a flood into the building which shortly drowned out the last spark.

In the Municipal lodging house next door there was meanwhile a wild nante. Three hun dred and twenty-five men, twenty women, and three children slept in the building. When the police burst in with cries of fire they got up and fled just as they were, getting thoroughly drenched as they ran out in the street by the engines that pleketed street and avenue. For a while it was feared that the lodging house would be burned. The iron shutters could not be closed, but the firemen deluged the exposed wall with water and saved the building.

The loss to the Illustrated American Company was $20,000. De Grenville, Seymour & Co, are the publishers. Charles Seidel owns the building. Eight tons of paper in the basement were reduced to pulp by the rushing water. The fire, it was said, prevented the carrying out of a coperative scheme under which the employees of the publication were, after this month, to share in its profits or losses. This is the second time this publication has been burned out. The management announces that the paper will be out on time from its new office in the Metropolis building. ired and twenty-five men, twenty women, and

Said to Mave Issued Many Engineers' Lie for a Consideration-Their Arrest the Re-mit of a Trap Laid for Tham by the Con-tral Organization of Steam Engineers. Pollosmen J. H. Lilly and John C. Honderson of the Bureau of Steam Boller Inspection at Police Headquarters, who were arrested on Thursday on a charge of agreeing to accept a bribe of $25, were arraigned before Magistrate Flammer in the Centre Street Police Court yes In connection with the arrest of Lilly and Henderson it is said that it has been impos sible for even competent engineers to get leenses without paying for them. It is also said that the Central Organization of Steam

Engineers resolved, some time ago, to remedy this evil, and that the arrest of the two police men was the result of this determination Steinberg, a competent engineer, it is de-clared, deliberately failed in his examination for a license for the purpose of having the two policemen caught in the act of extorting money

The charge made against the policemen in the Centre Street Court was violation of section 48 of the Penal Code, which provides against any officer recieving money for an unlawful act. In the complaint Von Steinberg sets forth that having failed to pass the examination for a renewal of his license, he gave the marked money ound on Lilly to that policeman to be equally divided between him and Henderson.

Lilly's answer to the complaint was that he was so shocked at the attempt to bribe him that he resolved to punish the briber. So he ook the money and walked after Henderson, who had gone ahead, meaning to tell him of the natter and consult with him as to what action matter and consult with him as to what action should be taken. He was undecided, he says, whether to take the money to Sergeant Washington Mullin, who commands the bureau, then, or to wait until morning. Before he could do either, he says, he was arrested.

At the request of their counsel the two men were held for examination until next Friday. They furnished $1,000 bail each and were allowed to go.

Henderson and Lilly were appointed policemen in 1888, and, because of the fact that they were engineers by trade, they were assigned to duty in the Bureau of Steam Boiler Inspection. Since 1892 they have been the sole examiners of the bureau, and every applicant for a license to run a steam engine of any kind has been sent to them. Last year the two men examined $,521 applicants, most of whom were successful in obtaining licenses.

A year ago an engineer named Wilson, who worked for a manufacturing concern in this city, made a charge of corruption against Lilly and Henderson. Wilson, it seems, heard that his fireman was taking an examination for an anginer's license and that if he ret one he and Henderson. Wilson, it seems, heard that his fireman was taking an examination for an engineer's license, and that, if he got one, he was going to supersede him. Wilson wrote a letter to Sergeant Mullin warning him that the fireman was incompetent and adding that if he got a license it must be for money. The fireman was rejected, but later passed an examination and got a license. Then Wilson came forward and declared that the fireman had paid tilly and Henderson to allow another engineer to pass an examination for him.

There was an investigation of the matter, but as it was believed that Wilson was jealous of the fireman and had no ground for his charges, it was dropped.

as it was believed that Wilson was jealous of the fireman and had no ground for his charges, it was dropped.

Sergeant Mullin said yesterday that he had no means of knowing if there had been bribery going on in the bureau. Lilly and Henderson did all the examining and reported favorably or unfavorably on candidates, he said. He had nothing but the records of the office to go by. Had there been wholesale bribery, he said, a lot of incommetent men would have received livenses. The fact that, despite the large number of boilers in operation in the city, there have been scarcely any casualities from that source, he said, would indicate that Lilly and Henderson had not been granting licenses to incompetent men.

The Central Organization of Steam Engineers has retained Charles W. Dayton to look after its interests. When seen at his office yesterday Mr. Dayton said that he knew nothing about the Von Steinberg case.

"That has been placed in the hands of a criminal lawyer," he said, "who is attending to it as he thinks best."

The criminal lawyer said that he couldn't talk at the present time. He knew, he said, that Lilly and Henderson had failen into a trap, but whether or not the engineers' organization set the trap he didn't know. Every effort, he said, would be made to convict the two policemen.

A HUNT FOR BINDERNAGEL. Former Preprietor of "Little Monte Carle" Does Not Want to Go to Snake Hill.

Assistant Prosecutor Klink appeared before Judge Hudspeth in the General Sessions Court n Jersey City yesterday to apply for a forfeiture of Freeholder Philip Bindernagel's bonds. Bindernagel, who was the proprietor of 'Little Monte Carlo" in West New York, was contenced to one year at Snake Hill. Pending the decision of the court of last resort Bindernagel was released on $5,000 bail. On the 5th inst. a capias was issued for Bindernagel's arrest and given to Sheriff Heller. The Sheriff's officers were unable to find Bindernagel and the Sheriff so retorted to the court. The bondsmen, Ora Darling and Garrett Finck, were notified to produce Bindernagel in court yesterday. Senator William Daly, representing the bondsmen, asked for a short delay. He said that Bindernagel had consulted former District Attorney Ridgway of Brooklyn and Mr. Ridgway had applied to the United States Supreme Court for a writ of er or, which, if granted, would act as stay. Senator Daly said that Bindernagel was not evading the process of the court, but was desirous of availing himself of all his legal rights to keep out of prison. His body was found about 6:15 this morning by Abram Doyle, his stableman, under his trap in the stableyard. It is supposed that Mr. Meyers was thrown from the trap in front of the residence of John Beaver, a quarter of a mile below the Meyers residence and dragged home, as his pecketbook and some papers that had dropped from an inside overcoat pocket were found on the road at that spot. There was a wound over the left temple and on the forehead and a long bruise over the chest. The skin had been scraped from one of the fingers.

CANAL IMPROVEMENTS.

Executive Canal Committee in Paver of Finishing the Work.

A meeting was held at the Produce Exchange yesterday of the Executive Canal Committee body composed of representatives of all the commercial bodies of the State. The efforts of this committee were largely instrumental in securing the $9,000,000 appropriation for the curing the $5,000,000 appropriation for the improvement of the State's canals, which, it has turned out, was insufficient. Various reports of State officers regarding the condition of the work on the canals were read and discussed at the steeting. The prependerance of opinion expressed at the meeting was in favor of completing the work. The President, R. R. Hefford of Buffalo, was empowered to answer a letter from Gov. Black. The purport of neither this letter nor the reply was made public.

STORY OF ACTOR RATCLIFFE'S WINE

Warden Pallon Says His Subordinate's Faculties Are Palling, That He is Afraid at Sight, in Carcless, and Let the Actor's Priends Carouse with Him-Trial Ordered. Edward J. O'Shea, the former Warden of the fombs prison, who has been acting night warden, was summoned yesterday to appear before Commissioner of Corrections Francis J. Lantry next week to answer charges of neglect of duty, incompetency, and misconduct. The charges, which are made by Warden

Fallon, say that in December and January O'Shea became mentally weak and incapable o performing his duties, and showed signs of owardice in this, that he was afraid to patrol his post of duty alone, and was afraid to cover certain portions of his post, especially the roof, He also showed signs of mental weakness in this that he was in constant bodily fear, or

He also showed signs of mental weakness in this that he was in constant bodily fear, or pretended to be in constant fear, of physical violence being inflicted upon him by some persons unknown to him.

They go on to say that on the night of Dec. 17 O'Shea "permitted one Edward J. Ratcliffe, a prisoner confined in said Tombe as such, to leave the prison and to be entertained by friends in the office of the Warden, carousing and drinking spirituous liquors in the hearing and in the presence of the said deputy warden, and to be absent from his cell in said prison from about $130$ to 11:30 o'clock, thereby endangering the safety of said prison and facilitating the escape of said prisoner;" that he several times neglected to make his night fours; that he frequently left the keys of the outer door of the entrance leading from Leonard; street to the prisoners, and that on Dec. 31 he "refused and neglected to respond to the bell of the front door leading to the old male prison, which rang several times, assigning as a reason for such neglect that the persons who rang the said bell had designs upon his life, and he was, therefore, afraid to open the door or to ascertain who was there."

O'Shea says the charges are false. He once had Fallon tried and removed on tharges which the courts said were not sustained, and he says this is a case of spite.

"There is no malice on my part in presenting the charges," said Warden Fallon yesterday.

"O'Shea permitted three men to come into the Tombs for the purpose of entertaining Ratcliffe. Ratcliffe was brought out of his cell and allowed to hold a recention in the office with his three friends. They drank whiskey and wine and stayed here from 8:30 o'clock until after 11. I have not learned yet whether Ratcliffe sent out and purchased the liquor or whether his friends brought it in to him."

WARDEN O'SHEA ACCUSED. Woman's Nerves.

Mrs. Platt Talks About Hysteria.

When a nerve or a set of nerves supplying any organ in the body with its due nutriment grows weak, that organ languishes.

When the nerves become exhausted and die, so to speak, the organ falls into decay. What is to be done? The answer is, do not allow the weakness to progress; stop the deteriorating process at once!

Do you experience fits of depression, alternating with restlessness? Are your spirits easily affected, so that one moment you laugh and the next fall into convulsive weeping?

Again, do you feel something like a ball rising in your throat and threatening to choke you, all the senses perverted, morbidly sensitive to light and sound, pain in ovary, and pain especially between the shoulders, sometimes loss of voice and nervous dyspepsia? If so, you are hysterical, your uterine nerves are at fault. You must do something to restore their tone. Nothing is better for the purpose than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound it will work a cure. If you do not understand your symptoms, write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., and she will give you honest, expert advice, free of charge. MRS. LEVI F. PLATT, Womleysburg, Pa., had a terrible experience with the illness we have just described. Here is her own description of her sufferings:

"I thought I could not be so benefited by anything and keep it to myself. I had hysteria (caused by womb trouble) in its worst form. I was awfully nervous, lowspirited and melancholy, and everything imaginable. "The moment I was alone I would cry from hour to hour; I did not care whether I lived or died. I told my husband I believed Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would do me good. I took it and am now well and strong, and getting stouter. I have more color in my face than I have had for a year and a half. Please accept my thanks. I hope all who read this and who suffer from nervousness of this kind will do as I have done and be cured."

HIDDEN STORES OF ARMS FOUND. Supposed to Be These Crairete Got Beady for Rebellion in Mexico.

Pachuca, State of Hidalgo, Mex., Jan. 14 .-

Large stores of arms and ammunition have been found in different parts of this city and on differerent ranches scattered throughout the State of Hidalgo. It is alleged that these supplies were hidden by order of Gen. Crairoto while Governor of this State, and that he was hatching a revolution which had for its object the overthrow of the present national Government and the placing of himself in the Chief Executive's chair. About the middle of last September President About the middle of last September President Dias became cognizant of this alleged revolutionary plot and summoned Gov. Crairoto to the City of Mexico on the pretext that he wanted to confer with him on certain important matters. Gov. Crairoto obeyed the summons, and Immediately upon his arrival in the City of Mexico he was placed under police surveillance, and has been virtually a prisoner of the Government ever since. He was removed from office by President Diaz, and is now to be tried by military court for the alleged offence. It is said that Gov. Crairoto was so oppressive to all foreigners who came to his State that the development of mining and other industries there has been greatly retarded. He accumulated a fortune of over three million dollars out of his office as Governor in the course of a few years.
